Three Men in the Fiery Furnace

The Bible tells us about three men with special names: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These men were special in another way, too. They worshiped the one true God, no matter what!

In this story, a man named Nebuchadnezzar was the king. He didn't worship the one true God. Instead, he put up a gold statue as his god. It was 90 feet tall! It was nine feet wide! He told the people to worship this statue anytime they heard music playing.

But Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego loved God! They refused to worship the statue. This made the king furious! He wanted to punish the three men. The king had his men tie them up. Then, he threw the three men into the burning-hot flames! But the three men still trusted God. They said, "The God whom we serve is able to save us" (Daniel 3:17).

When King Nebuchadnezzar looked into the furnace, he saw four men walking around. An angel of God had come to protect Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. They didn't get a single burn! Their clothes stayed perfect! They didn't even smell like smoke!

The king called the three men out of the furnace right away. The king made a new order: nobody can speak a word against the true God!
